- e. I understand that once I own an AED device, I am legally responsible to create and implement an operational oversight plan which includes use of the AED, notification of local Emergency Medical Services and maintenance of the AED. (It is your responsibility as owner of an AED to establish an oversight program in accordance with the law in your state.)
- f. I understand that this medical prescription for purchase of an AED does not provide medical direction or authorization to use an AED. You must complete the training package on the CD ROM to be qualified to use an AED.
- g. I understand that the prescription issued by First Aid For All meets the FDA requirement for a prescription to purchase an AED, but it is not an authorization for use of an AED.

An AED is not a substitute for evaluation and treatment by a qualified physician. If you are purchasing an AED because you believe you or someone else has heart problems or is at risk for sudden cardiac arrest, it is essential that medical treatment be obtained immediately.

First Aid For All's physician and medical director is issuing this prescription only for the purchase of an AED. This prescription does not constitute authorization to use the AED. AEDs are medical devices that require training to use safely and effectively. All expected users must be trained prior to using the AED.

Laws in your state may require you to consult with a physician to set up and use your AED. Check with your local Emergency Medical Services or American Heart Association office. This prescription does not substitute for any physician consultation or AED oversight requirements. AEDs must be used and maintained according to manufacturer's recommendations.
